

The Equanimity Guide by Dan Gerber

Privacy Policy

Your privacy is respected and treated with care.

- All session content shared during clinical hypnotherapy is handled with strict confidentiality.
- Information disclosed during sessions is not legally protected under doctor–patient privilege.
- Disclosure of information may occur only if required by a court of law or governing authority.
- Sessions may be audio- or video-recorded for educational and supervision purposes. All recordings are kept confidential and handled with discretion.
- Session progress may be discussed solely with Dan Gerber’s clinical supervisor for professional supervision and support.